

Who Am I?

We are all unique, different and special. We have different things that make up our identity, such as our cultural background, nationality, gender, interests and skills (which one day might end up being our jobs!).

Activity: Think about what makes you, 'you'! Label the different parts of the jigsaw below with different parts of your identity.

Who Am I?

We are all unique, different and special. We have different things that make up our identity, such as our cultural background, nationality, gender, interests and skills (which one day might end up being our jobs!).

Activity: Think about what makes you, 'you'! Label the different parts of the jigsaw below with different parts of your identity.

Who is important to you and why?

Where have you travelled?

Where do you want to travel?

What words describe you?

What do you love to eat?