

Food Fusion

Exploring food and drinks from other cultures is a wonderful way to start learning about other cultures and broaden our horizons. Nowadays, we eat dishes from different parts of the globe regularly e.g. spaghetti, pizza, pho, noodle dishes and dumplings.

Activity: 1 Draw and label a favourite family dish!

2 and 3. Draw and label (dish name and country) two dishes you or your family like to eat from other cultures.

Activity:

4. Draw a dish that you would like to create that is a food 'fusion' - a dish that is a mix of different dishes, ingredients or cultural influences e.g. you might use native Australian ingredients in a dish from Asia. Give it a name and describe what is in it!
